

Subject Anatomical gift of eye; designation of appropriate eye bank
Authors Baker and others
Analyst Elisabeth Klarqvist
Date September 9, 2019

Overview

This bill designates the Lions Gift of Sight at the University of Minnesota as the eye bank that will receive an anatomical gift of an eye when the document of gift does not otherwise designate a person to receive the eye.

Summary

Section	Description
1	Persons that may receive anatomical gift; purpose of anatomical gift. Amends § 525A.11. Amends a section listing the entities that are permitted to receive an anatomical gift. Under current law, a document of gift may name a person (such as a hospital, medical school, college, organ procurement organization, individual, eye bank, or tissue bank) to receive an anatomical gift. If a document of gift makes an anatomical gift of an eye and the document of gift does not name a person to receive the eye, the eye passes to the appropriate eye bank. This section designates the Lions Gift of Sight at the University of Minnesota as the eye bank that will receive an anatomical gift of an eye when the document of gift does not otherwise name a person to receive the eye.